

Introduction of Facilitator 導師簡介

Mr Anthony Woo, CFA FRM CAIA

As an academic researcher and venture capitalist, Anthony covers FinTech (e.g. Ant Financial, Lufax, and Dianrong) for the Harvard Business School Asia-Pacific Research Center, focusing on frontier technologies such as Artificial Intelligence and Blockchain. As the Advisor of the Harvard Innovation Lab (iLab) and Bauhinia Creek Ventures, he is part of multiple startups in Greater China. Anthony used to be an investment banker at Morgan Stanley, and was a banker at J.P. Morgan focusing on portfolio management, equity derivatives, and investment strategy in San Francisco, London, and New York respectively. In New York, Anthony reported directly to the global Chief Investment Officer (CIO) and Chief Economist of J.P. Morgan managing over US$ 249 billion of client assets.

Anthony completed his MBA at Harvard Business School. He graduated from U.C. Berkeley (Haas School of Business) summa cum laude with a B.S. degree in Business Administration. As an elected member of the Board of the Faculty of Education at HKU, he has completed an M.S. degree in Information Technology in Education (Distinction), he has also been appointed by the Hong Kong Securities and Investment Institute as an instructor in A.I., and Blockchain. Anthony currently holds the designations of Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA), Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA), Financial Risk Manager (FRM), and Certified Bitcoin Professional (CBP), Certificate in Machine Learning for Big Data & Text Processing at MIT, as well as a course on Deep Learning and Machine Learning with TensorFlow.