Brief Description

The seminar will share the latest global and local development in FinTech, Initial Coin Offerings (ICO) blockchain, cryptocurrencies and the impacts of those to the business world.

- What is FinTech?
- What are cryptocurrencies, blockchain, Initial Coin Offering (ICO), advanced analytics and how are they related to FinTech?
- How is the FinTech market developing globally and locally?
- How could Hong Kong businesses benefit from FinTech development?

What lessons could any business take from the success of the FinTech model?

Speaker's Profile

Marin Ivezic is a Partner in PwC Hong Kong where he focuses on cybersecurity, privacy as well as risk, compliance and security aspects of FinTech solutions. He works with both, FinTech providers, as well as FinTech business customers on helping them achieve business benefits from their FinTech initiatives. Prior to joining PwC, Marin held global and Asia-Pacific cybersecurity and financial services consulting roles in global technology firms, acted as an interim CISO in financial services organizations, and as a Director of Technology for one of the largest global eCommerce businesses.
